

AP Statistics Investigative Task 08

Question 1a

An online survey of 1000 college students reported the percentage of students who visit a college site with one of the major religious groups.

If the probability is 0.25 that a student will visit a college website at least once, what is an estimate of the percent of students that do not visit the website at least once?

Question 1b

The results for the 1000 students reported the percentage of students who visit a college site frequently (at least once a week), occasionally, or never. The largest number of students, more than 50%, reported that they visit a college site frequently. There are 400 students in the 1000. There are 100 students who report that they visit a college site frequently and 300 students who report that they visit a college site occasionally.

The number of students who visit a college site frequently is 40% of the 1000 students and the number of students who visit a college site occasionally is 30% of the 1000 students. How many students visit a college site frequently?

Question 2a

What is the probability of visiting a college site frequently at least once?  $P = 0.40$

What is the probability of visiting a college site frequently at least once?  $P = 0.40$

President, 1967 Let the Evidence Speak Alan Jessop, 2018-05-31 This book presents the most important ideas behind Bayes Rule in a form suitable for the general reader It is written without formulae because they are not necessary the ability to add and multiply is all that is needed As well as showing in full the application of Bayes Rule to some quantitatively simple though not trivial examples the book also convincingly demonstrates that some familiarity with Bayes Rule is helpful in thinking about how best to structure one's thinking Forensic Victimology Brent E. Turvey, Wayne Petherick, 2010-07-28 This new textbook provides students with the basic principles and practice standards of forensic victimology the scientific study of victims for the purposes of addressing investigative and forensic issues It provides case based coverage with original insights into the role that victimology plays in the justice system moving beyond the traditional theoretical approaches already available The purpose of this textbook is to distinguish the investigative and forensic aspects of victim study as a necessary adjunct to the field of victimology It identifies forensic victimologists in the investigative and forensic communities and provides them with methods and standards of practice needed to be of service This book is intended to educate students on the means and rationale for performing victimological assessments with a scientific mindset Forensic Victimology is designed specifically for teaching the practical aspects of this topic with hands on real life case examples Applied victimology for students and caseworkers performing objective examinations as opposed to theoretical victimology that studies victim groups and crime statistics First ever textbook detailing a mandate scope and methods for forensic victimologist practitioners Provides a critical scientific counterbalance to existing mainstream texts approaching general victimology with a pro victim bias Written by practitioners of forensic victimology in the investigative forensic mental health and academic communities

Task Force on the Administration of Justice,1967 This report of the Task Force on the Administration of Justice of the President s Commission on Law Enforcement and Administration of Justice presents findings and recommendations that relate to problems facing the Nation s criminal courts The report is not a comprehensive survey of American criminal courts or of the activities of the personnel related to them It confines itself to those parts of the court system and those aspects of the criminal process that the Commission believes are in most need of reform It focuses on urban courts particularly urban lower courts Two important nontrial aspects of the criminal process are considered in detail the prosecutor s charge decision and the negotiated guilty plea These administrative and largely invisible procedures now determine the disposition of most criminal cases in many urban courts The task force also analyzes the sentencing decision the laws under which it is made the procedures by which it is made and the training of the men who make it It discusses the problems associated with the pretrial release of defendants and explores such subjects as structural reorganization of the courts methods for scheduling cases and ensuring that they proceed expeditiously and the management of jurors and witnesses The report recognizes the importance of substantive criminal law reform and the inherent limits of effective law enforcement Reflected in the report is the Commission s finding that a major need of many courts is more better qualified and better trained personnel It examines the selection and training of judges and prosecutors
