create conditions for economic transformation However many African cities have developed haphazardly resulting in the decline of public services in slum proliferation and increases in poverty African cities thrive on activities characterized by easy entry and low productivity generally referred to as the informal sector Indeed today some urban dwellers are poorer than their cousins in the countryside In spite of reform attempts many governments have not been able to create an enabling environment with adequate infrastructure and institutions to sustain markets for easy exchange and production This study argues that with careful policies and planning the situation can be changed If the recent natural resource led economic boom that we have seen in many African countries is used for structural reforms and urban renewal African cities could become centers of economic opportunity The challenge for African policymakers is to ensure that urban development is orderly and that the process is inclusive and emphasizes the protection of the environment hence green growth
