1. What is the difference between a threat agent and a threat? -- Correct!

Answer: A threat agent is the local actor of an attack, whereas a threat is a category of objects, persons, or other entities that represents a potential danger to an asset. Threats are always present. Some threats manifest themselves in accidental occurrences and others are purposeful. For example, however, a fire that has begun in a building is an attack. If you are not in the fire then the accident is the threat agent. If you are in the building and the fire started the fire, then that is the threat agent.
