Networking for People Who Hate Networking Devora Zack, 2019-05-21 Would you rather get a root canal than face a group of strangers Does the phrase working a room make you want to retreat to yours Devora Zack an avowed introvert and successful consultant who gives presentations to thousands of people at dozens of events annually feels your pain She found that other networking books assume that to succeed you have to act like an extrovert Not at all There is another way Zack politely examines and then smashes to tiny fragments the dusty old rules of standard networking advice She shows how the very traits that make many people hate networking can be harnessed to forge an approach more effective and user friendly than traditional techniques This edition adds new material on applying networking principles in personal situations handling interview questions following up what do you do with all those business cards and more Networking enables you to accomplish the goals that are most important to you But you can t adopt a style that goes against who you are and you don t have to As Zack writes You do not succeed by denying your natural temperament you succeed by working with your strengths

The Cactus and Snowflake at Work Devora Zack, 2021-11-02 This hilarious and profound workplace guide proves the rigorously rational and the supremely sympathetic can meet in the middle and merge their strengths Readers will discover how blending with their opposite opens the pathway to being their truest selves Carl Jung s personality typology introduced the distinction that Feelers who lead with their hearts put more weight on personal concerns and the people involved and Thinkers who lead with their heads are guided by objective principles and impartial facts This book calls them Cacti and Snowflakes each singularly transcendent But can people with such fundamentally different ways of making sense of and engaging with the world work together Yes says Devora Zack The key is not to try to change each other Zack says we can directly control only three things what we say what we think and what we do The best use of our energy is to focus on our own reactions and perceptions rather than try to fix other people This book includes an assessment so readers can learn where they are on the Thinker Feeler spectrum and because it's a spectrum readers might well be a snowcactus or a cactusflake Then Zack helps them figure out where other people might be guiding them through a myriad of modes of communication and motivation based on personality type She includes real life scenarios that show how to nurture one's nature while successfully connecting with those on the other side As always Zack fearlessly and entertainingly dispels myths squashes stereotypes and transforms perceived liabilities into strengths And she once again affirms that like chocolate and peanut butter we are better together
