Compiled by the College Art Association, this easy-to-use directory includes over 350 schools and English language academic programs in the United States, Canada, Great Britain, and elsewhere worldwide. Listings provide descriptions of special courses, numbers, names, and specializations of faculty, facilities, studios, and special equipment; student opportunities for research and work; information on financial aid, fellowships, and assistantships; application requirements and details on housing, health insurance, studio safety, and other practical matters. An index lists schools alphabetically and by state and country for quick reference. An introductory essay provides a detailed description of the elements of a program entry, including explanations of the various kinds of programs and degrees offered, placing the search and selection process in context. This is the third edition of this directory, published by CAA. Alice Twemlow, 2006 In the 21st century, graphic designers throughout the world are facing tough but exciting challenges: new technologies, new ways for clients to interact with customers and an audience that is increasingly literate when it comes to design, global influences and cultures. This book starts by exploring the issues that shape design today: sustainability, ethics, technology, theory, and developments in other fields that impact globally on local cultures. This book breaks the discipline down into its elements. The book examines traditional practices such as typography, signage, advertising, and book design, as well as more recent developments including VJing, games design, software design, and interactive design. There is no single ideal for how a designer should be: a designer can practice alone or be part of a large group; a designer can also write, edit, curate, take photographs, design typefaces, and be an entrepreneur. This book concludes with a showcase of the work of cutting-edge designers from many parts of the world. Page 4 of cover
