

Chapter 7: Project Time-Cost Trade-Off

7.1 Introduction

In the previous chapters, duration of activities discussed as either fixed or random numbers with known characteristics. However, activity durations can often vary depending upon the type and amount of resources that are applied. Assigning more workers to a particular activity will normally result in a shorter duration. Greater speed may result in higher costs and lower quality, however. In this section, we shall consider the impacts of time and cost trade-offs in activities.

Reducing both construction projects' cost and time is critical in today's market-driven economy. This relationship between construction projects' time and cost is called time-cost trade-off decisions, which has been investigated extensively in the construction management literature. Time-cost trade-off decisions are complex and require selection of appropriate construction method for each project task. Time-cost trade-off, in fact, is an important management tool for overcoming one of the critical path method limitations of being unable to bring the project schedule to a specified duration.

7.2 Time-Cost Trade-Off

The objective of the time-cost trade-off analysis is to reduce the original project duration, determined from the critical path analysis, to meet a specific deadline, with the least cost. In addition to that it might be necessary to finish the project in a specific time to:

- Finish the project in a predefined deadline date.
- Recover early delays.
- Avoid liquidated damages.
- Free key resources early for other projects.
- Avoid adverse weather conditions that might affect productivity.
- Receive an early completion-bonus.
- Improve project cash flow

Reducing project duration can be done by adjusting overlaps between activities or by reducing activities' duration. What is the reason for an increase in direct cost as the activity duration is reduced? A simple case arises in the use of overtime work. By scheduling weekend or evening work, the completion time for an activity as measured in calendar days will be reduced. However, extra wages must be paid for such overtime work, so the cost will increase. Also, overtime work is more prone to accidents and quality problems that must be corrected, so costs may increase. The activity duration can be reduced by one of the following actions:

- Applying multiple-shifts work.
- Working extended hours (over time).
- Offering incentive payments to increase the productivity.
- Working on week ends and holidays.
- Using additional resources.

Chapter 7 Project Manager Crime Time:

"You Are Not Expected to Understand This" Torie Bosch, 2022-11-15 Leading technologists, historians, and journalists reveal the stories behind the computer coding that touches all aspects of life for better or worse. Few of us give much thought to computer code or how it comes to be. The very word "code" makes it sound immutable or even inevitable. You Are Not Expected to Understand This demonstrates that far from being preordained, computer code is the result of very human decisions, ones we all live with when we use social media, take photos, drive our cars, and engage in a host of other activities. Everything from law enforcement to space exploration relies on code written by people who, at the time, made choices and assumptions that would have long-lasting, profound implications for society. Torie Bosch brings together many of today's leading technology experts to provide new perspectives on the code that shapes our lives. Contributors discuss a host of topics such as how university databases were programmed long ago to accept only two genders, what the person who programmed the very first pop-up ad was thinking at the time, the first computer worm, the Bitcoin white paper, and perhaps the most famous seven words in Unix history. You are not expected to understand this. This compelling book tells the human stories behind programming, enabling those of us who don't think much about code to recognize its importance and those who work with it every day to better understand the long-term effects of the decisions they make. With an introduction by Ellen Ullman and contributions by Mahsa Alimardani, Elena Botella, Meredith Broussard, David Cassel, Arthur Daemrich, Charles Duan, Quinn DuPont, Claire L. Evans, Hany Farid, James Grimmelmann, Katie Hafner, Susan C. Herring, Syeda Gulshan, Ferdous Jana, Lowen Liu, John MacCormick, Brian McCullough, Charlton McIlwain, Lily Hay Newman, Margaret O'Mara, Will Oremus, Nick Partridge, Benjamin Pope, Joy Lisi Rankin, Afsaneh Rigot, Ellen R. Stofan, Lee Vinsel, Josephine Wolff, and Ethan Zuckerman.

The Hidden War Susan J. Popkin, 2000 Describes what it is like to live in some of the worst neighborhoods in the United States and discusses what government officials can do to improve the safety and quality of public housing developments.

Crimes Against the Environment Donald J. Rebovich, George E. Curtis, 2020-10-26 Crimes Against the Environment explains the seriousness of the threat posed by pollution its roots how it has evolved how it differs across the planet and how society has endeavored to create and enforce laws directed at its control Rebovich and Curtis begin with an overview of hazardous waste the industries that produce toxins available methods of waste treatment and the legal environment of environmental crime They examine the forces driving criminal behavior and the methods offenders adopt as well as protections against polluters and their effectiveness The book concludes with an examination of environmental justice in the United States and globally and looks ahead to the future of crime control and prevention in this arena Case studies and discussion questions offer further perspective on these challenging issues of environmental integrity This text serves undergraduate or early stage graduate students majoring in criminal justice environmental science sociology and political science and could also serve as a resource for professionals in environment related occupations

Children and Families in Communities Jacqueline Barnes, Ilan Barry Katz, Jill E. Korbin, Margaret O'Brien, 2006-05-01 In the past decade the relationship between communities children and families has inspired a wealth of research and policy initiatives because of a growing belief that the breakdown of families and communities is a significant factor in social problems including child abuse and juvenile crime The latest policy initiatives to tackle social problems have therefore targeted communities as well as high risk families This title amalgamates the latest research on the relationship between children families and communities and explores policy and practice implications Material for practitioners and community development workers is also included The book is divided into three parts 1 theory 2 the effect of community on children parents and families 3 interventions and policy implications

Women and White-collar Crime Mary Dodge, 2009 The role of women in white collar crime has emerged as a major topic in the twenty first century but it remains a controversial and neglected area of criminological study Women and White Collar Crime explores the topic of women and white collar crime beyond any previous attempts by encompassing theoretical historical and critical accounts of female perpetrators victims and whistle blowers Through the examination of numerous real life case studies the book provides insight into the personal and societal characterizations of women who cross the line into elite deviance or become victims of corporate and occupational crime Book Jacket
