

The background of the entire cover is a photograph of a rugged coastline. In the foreground, there are large, dark, rounded rocks scattered across the shore. The ocean is a deep, dark blue-grey color with white foam from waves crashing against the rocks. In the distance, there are dark, silhouetted hills or mountains under a heavy, overcast sky with some light breaking through near the horizon.

The Broken Shore Peter Temple:

The Broken Shore Peter Temple, 2014-01-23 Don Hany stars as Joe Cashin in the ABC telemovie of The Broken Shore. Joe Cashin was different once He moved easily then was surer and less thoughtful But there are consequences when you ve come so close to dying For Cashin they included a posting away from the world of Homicide to the quiet place on the coast where he grew up Now all he has to do is play the country cop and walk the dogs And sometimes think about how he was before Then prominent local Charles Bourgoyne is bashed and left for dead Everything seems to point to three boys from the nearby Aboriginal community everyone seems to want it to But Cashin is unconvinced And as tragedy unfolds relentlessly into tragedy he finds himself holding onto something that might be better let go Peter Temple s gift for compelling plots and evocative compassionately drawn characters has earned him a reputation as the grand master of Australian crime writing The Broken Shore is a novel about a place about family about politics and power and the need to live decently in a world where so much is rotten It is a work as moving as it is gripping and one that defies the boundaries of genre

A Life in Fifty Books Anthony Cheetham, 2025-03-06 There are good publishers and there are great publishers And then there s Anthony Cheetham Richard Dawkins In November 1966 by way of Mexico City Eton College Balliol College Oxford and a Norwegian raspberry farm Anthony Cheetham entered the doors of a publishing company for the first time to begin work as a junior editor Fifty eight years later he could look back on a career in which he had shaped the landscape of post war British publishing to a significant degree having established such prominent and notably successful companies as Century Orion Quercus and Head of Zeus and launched imprints from Abacus in 1973 to Zephyr in 2017 that continue to flourish in the third decade of the twenty first century Starting with Homer s Odyssey and ending with works by the evolutionary biologist Richard Dawkins and the German historian Ernst Kantorowicz Anthony

Cheetham has selected fifty books as mileposts with which to map the course of his long and productive career. Many of these are titles that he himself published: Dune, The Thorn Birds, A Suitable Boy, Meetings with Remarkable Trees, The Girl with the Dragon Tattoo; some are books he wished he had published: Stephen Hawking's A Brief History of Time; others are simply masterworks that left an indelible mark on him: The Lord of the Rings: War and Peace. A Life in Fifty Books is an affectionate and revelatory account of a publishing life remarkable for its longevity, its entrepreneurial energy, and for the breadth and catholicity of its output, which runs the gamut of seriousness from academically distinguished works of history, science, and philosophy to Confessions of a Window Cleaner. Full of encounters with remarkable individuals, as well as extraordinary books and embellished with beautiful photographs of book jackets from the 1950s to the present day, A Life in Fifty Books is an engagingly written survey of an industry which, in its author's well-chosen words, offers its practitioners a passport to roam across the entire spectrum of human experience, endeavour, and belief.

White Dog Peter Temple, 2010-05-16 This is the fourth Jack Irish thriller. Jack Irish, gambler, cook, and cabinetmaker, finds a job hunting for evidence that might save the beautiful sculptor Sarah Longmore from a murder rap. Jack soon falls headlong into a world of shady deals, sexual secrets, and country rednecks.

Translating National Allegories Alistair Rolls, John West-Sooby, Marie-Laure Vuaille-Barcan, 2019-04-15 This book explores the intersection of a number of academic areas of study that are all individually of growing importance: translation studies, crime fiction, and world literature. The scholars included here are leaders in one or more of these areas. The frame of this volume is imagological; its focus is on the ways in which national allegories are constructed and deconstructed, encompassing descriptions of national characteristics as they play out at the level of the local or the individual, as well as broader political analyses. Its corpus, crime fiction, is shown to be a privileged site for writing the national narrative and often in ways that are more complex and dynamic than is suggested by the genre's much-cited role as vehicle for a new realism. Finally, these two areas are problematised through the lens of translation, which is a crucial player in both the development of crime fiction and the formation, rather than simply the interlingual transfer, of national allegory. In this volume, national allegories and the crime novels in which they emerge are shown to be eminently versatile, foundationally plural texts that promote critical rewriting, as opposed to sites for fixing meaning. This book was originally published as a special issue of The Translator.

Truth Peter Temple, 2011-04-26 Winner of the 2010 Miles Franklin Award. Inspector Stephen Villani, head of homicide in Melbourne, Australia, has a full agenda: a murdered woman in a penthouse apartment, three men butchered in a sadistic rampage, a tattoo-faced drug dealer corrupting his rebellious daughter, a crumbling marriage. As these events begin to unfold, Villani finds himself immersed in an unfamiliar world of political scandal and ethical ambiguity, where honesty is a resource in very short supply.

Peter Temple's Truth is an intricate, beautifully written novel of suspense.
