Airline Industry Nawal K. Taneja, 2016-06-23 Many business sectors have been and are being forced to compete with new competitors disrupters of some sort who have found new ways to create and deliver new value for customers often through the use of technology that is coupled with a new underlying production or business model and or a broad array of partners including in some cases customers themselves Think about the disruption created by Apple by the introduction of the iPod and iTunes and by Netflix within the entertainment sectors using partners within the ecosystem think of Uber that didn't build an app around the taxi business but rather built a mobility business around the app to improve customer experience Airline Industry considers whether the airline industry is poised for disruptive innovations from inside or outside of the industry Although airlines have a long history of continuous improvements and innovation few of their innovations can be classified as disruptive innovations The few disruptive innovations that did emerge were facilitated for example by new technology jet aircraft and government policy deregulation Now there are new forces in play customers who expect to receive products that are more personalized and experience based throughout the entire journey new customer interfaces via social media advanced information systems and analytics financially powerful airlines based in emerging nations and the rise of unencumbered entrepreneurs who think differently as well as platform focused integrators

Mastering the Travel Intermediaries Ben Vinod, 2024-06-25 This book chronicles the role of travel intermediaries global distribution systems GDS travel management companies TMC and online travel agencies OTA in the distribution of travel products The book covers the historical development of these intermediaries and explores their current state and future prospects Almost six decades after the introduction of computerized reservations systems and four decades after the introduction of Global Distribution Systems that allowed travel agents to make automated airline bookings the distribution of air products is amid a major transition A fundamental change is pricing power which shifts from the GDSs to the airlines for the indirect channel These changes are driven by advancements in technology market economics and airline cost controls leading to the emergence of new revenue models that will permanently alter the landscape of air distribution As a result travel intermediaries are experiencing the effects of these turbulent times and must adopt innovative approaches and initiatives to adapt and transform their business models rather than maintaining the status quo In addition to the ongoing transformation over the next decade the advancements in emerging technologies like blockchain and decentralized digital identity will further revolutionize the distribution landscape across all sectors of the travel industry Official Journal of the European Communities ,1999 Case Based Research in Tourism, Travel, Hospitality and Events Marianna Sigala, Anastasia Yeark, Rajka Presbury, Marcela Fang, Karen A.
