
Tutorial 5. Modeling Radiation and Natural Convection

Introduction

In this tutorial combined radiation and natural convection are solved in a two-dimensional square box on a mesh consisting of quadrilateral elements.

This tutorial demonstrates how to do the following:

- Use the radiation models in FLUENT (Rosseland, P-1, DTRM, discrete ordinates (DO), and surface-to-surface (S2S)) and understand their ranges of application.
- Use the Boussinesq model for density.
- Set the boundary conditions for a heat transfer problem involving natural convection and radiation.
- Separate a single wall zone into multiple wall zones.
- Change the properties of an existing fluid material.
- Calculate a solution using the pressure-based solver.
- Display velocity vectors and contours of stream function and temperature for flow visualization.

Prerequisites

This tutorial assumes that you are familiar with the menu structure in FLUENT and that you have completed Tutorial 1 . Some steps in the setup and solution procedure will not be shown explicitly.

Problem Description
