humanistic reading of an essential evolutionary theorist George C Williams May 12 1926 September 8 2010 the author contends that certain classic works of evolutionary theory and history are the most important nature writing of recent times What it means to be scientifically literate is essential for humanistic scholars who must ground themselves with literary reading of scientific texts As the most influential American evolutionary theorist of the second half of the twentieth century Williams masters critique frames questions about adaptation and natural selection and answers in a plain aphoristic writing style Williams aims for parsimony to recognize adaptation at the level necessitated by the facts and no higher through a minimalist writing style This voice articulates a powerful process that operates at very low levels by blind and selfish chance at the expense of its designed products using purely trial and error
