

3-21 The Bigger Quadrilateral Puzzle

Study the diagrams of the rectangles suggested below and note that it contains several other quadrilaterals and triangles. Record the given information on the diagrams. Then use the student activities and your understanding of quadrilaterals and triangles to find the measures of the missing angles. Write the measures in their proper place on the diagrams. Doing more than one exercise will result in the diagrams you will use to create a rectangle puzzle (see Exercise 3-22) and another. You may not use rulers or protractors. (After several years' experience you know that it is better to measure your own work in class. It may help you to find missing measures.)
