Dynamics In Document Design Creating Text For Readers:

Dynamics in Document Design Karen A. Schriver, 2011-02-11      Reader feedback in text design Menno de Jong, 2022-06-08 Brochures play a significant role in governmental public information provision Every year many brochures are distributed to inform instruct or persuade people These brochures may benefit from a systematic design process including applied research such as pretesting Among communication professionals the importance of pretesting is practically undisputed Readers from the target audience are assumed to provide valuable insights into whether a document really works Organizations therefore increasingly try to include a pretest in the design process of important documents Various pretest methods have been developed and are being used in practice However little is known yet about the merits and restrictions of the available approaches This book provides a framework for scholarly research into pretesting and presents a series of studies into the validity of one particular pretest instrument a combination of the plus minus method and a semi structured questionnaire This is one of the prevailing pretest approaches in the Dutch public information sector The validity of the pretest instrument is assessed in two complementary ways First the question is addressed as to whether a revision on the basis of pretest results actually leads to an improvement in the functional quality of brochures Second a study is presented in which text and subject matter experts judge the importance of pretest results The pretest instrument appears to yield a large amount and a great variety of reader feedback which in a subsequent revision may contribute to significant improvements in the effectiveness of brochures      Past, Present, and Future Contributions of Cognitive Writing Research to

Cognitive Psychology Virginia Wise Berninger, 2012-05-04 This volume tells the story of research on the cognitive processes of writing from the perspectives of the early pioneers the contemporary contributors and visions of the future for the field Writing processes yield important insights into human cognition and is increasingly becoming a mainstream topic of investigation in cognitive psychology and cognitive neuroscience Technological advances have made it possible to study cognitive writing processes as writing unfolds in real time This book provides an introduction to these technologies The first part of the volume provides the historical context for the significance of writing research for contemporary cognitive psychology and honors the pioneers in cognitive and social cognitive research in this field The book then explores the rapidly expanding work on the social foundations of cognitive processes in writing and considers not only gender differences but also gender similarities in writing The third part presents a lifespan view of writing in early and middle childhood adolescence higher education and the world of work There follows an examination of the relationships of language processes at the word sentence and text levels to the cognitive processes in writing Part V covers representative research on the cognitive processes of writing translation and reviewing and revision and the working memory mechanisms that support those processes A review of the current technologies used to study these cognitive processes on line as they happen in real time is provided Part VII provides an introduction to the emerging new field of the cognitive neuroscience of writing made possible by the rapidly evolving brain imaging technologies which are interpretable in reference to paradigms in cognitive psychology of writing The final section of the book offers visions of the future of writing research from the perspective of contemporary leaders in writing research
